FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

KONECT PARTNER PROGRAM WELCOMES STRONG ONTARIO RESELLER WITH SMALL BUSINESS FOCUS

CALGARY, Alberta, August 14, 2006 – desktopsites Inc. (“desktopsites”), a rapidly emerging leader in access serverware for small and mid-size businesses, is pleased to announce the addition of N.A.C.N.S. Inc. (“NACNS”) to its Konect™ Reseller Partner Program. NACNS represents such brands as HP, IBM, Lenovo and Toshiba as part of its products and services portfolio to small and mid-sized companies in the Waterloo region in Ontario.

“We take great pride in the fact that our company’s continued growth and success comes from referrals from our existing customers,” says Jim Ryder President at NACNS. “We have long held that by staying in tune with technology developments, providing high quality solutions and delivering the service our customers expect that we would see the same success that we strive to help our customers achieve. The Konect solution is one of the new technologies that we see providing high quality and value to our customers. With its mix of features, price and simplicity we see Konect literally selling itself to many of our existing customers and providing us with an exciting solution for new customers.”

“The Kitchener – Waterloo region is synonymous with technology innovation in Canada,” said Alex Bethlehem, President and CEO of desktopsites. “It is exciting to be able to position Konect in this market with a partner of the quality and reputation of NACNS. We have already begun working with NACNS to communicate the value of Konect to local companies and are looking forward to strong market growth in the near future.”
