(“StarNet”) to its Konect™ Reseller Partner Program. StarNet is a full service technology solution provider helping clients address their needs with sensible, efficient and cost-effective solutions and superior technical service.

“Technological advances are creating opportunities for all businesses but these same advances are also creating a level of confusion and complexity that most businesses are unable to decipher,” says Lou Melograna, VP of StarNet. “The importance of knowledgeable, trusted technology advisors that can simplify the maze of options is increasing exponentially. Our business is built around this need and we pride ourselves in providing the best possible solution in the most cost effective manner. All done to ensure our clients realize the benefits they need.
