FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

KONECT ENABLES SECURE ACCESS FOR UNIQUE SUBSCRIBER FULFILLMENT SERVICES FIRM

CALGARY, Alberta, February 5, 2007 – desktopsites Inc. (“desktopsites”), a rapidly emerging leader in access serverware for small and mid-size businesses, is pleased to announce Publishers Service Associates (“PSA”), a subscriber fulfillment services firm with approximately 50 employees, as a new Konect customer in Williamsport, Pennsylvania.

“We had been using a different, well known access solution but the upgrade path was prohibitively expensive for our small company and it was causing confusion for our customers,” says Jason DeBloois, Technical Resources Manager of PSA. “Due to the nature of our business we need to provide our customers with access to their subscriber fulfillment database without opening up our entire network. We looked at several options before deciding on Konect. Konect proved to have all the features we needed. Our IT group loves Konect because of its clean and simple interface, its simplicity of use and the fact it no longer takes them all day to publish an application for remote access. And our clients love Konect because there is no learning curve. Instead of trying to navigate a second desktop they simply access our application like they would any other one on their local computer.”

“We are thrilled to see the benefits that PSA is realizing through their use of Konect,” said Alex Bethlehem, President and CEO of desktopsites. “The PSA business model is unique to their industry and their needs, and their client needs, reflect this. PSA’s clients have entrusted their most important asset to PSA to manage. Being able to access and manage these subscriber databases is critical and Konect is able to do this in a simple, secure and highly cost effective manner. It has been a real pleasure working with the PSA team to deliver Konect as their solution for their needs.”
