

desktopsites Inc. Announced As a Finalist for the CDN 5th Annual Channel Elite Awards

Press Release

CALGARY, Alberta, October 17, 2007 - desktopsites Inc. ('desktopsites'), a rapidly emerging leader in access serverware for small and mid-size businesses, is pleased to announce the company's selection as a finalist in the Best Small Business Solutions of the year category at the 2007 CDN Channel Elite Awards. These awards are presented to the most creative and innovative solution providers in Canada during the past twelve months.

The Best Small Business Solutions award honours businesses that have created the most innovative desktop, server or networking solution for an organization or department with up to 100 seats using the solution.

"We are extremely honoured to be selected as a finalist in the Best Small Business Solutions Category at CDN's Channel Elite Awards" said Alex Bethlehem, CEO, President for desktopsites. "Being a small business ourselves, this has helped desktopsites to properly understand the needs of a small business and has used this experience to address the risk, resource, and reward balance that small businesses need in technology solutions in order to remain competitive".

desktopsites, along with other technology partner finalists and winners in each of the award categories, will be honoured at a gala event in Vaughan, Ontario on November 14, 2007.
